

Course Description: High School Literature Grades 9-12 2024-2025

Illuminating Literature: When Worlds Collide is a one year high school literature course written from a Christian perspective that incorporates novels to explore the structural elements of fiction. Students will learn literary terms and gain an appreciation of fine literature while becoming more knowledgeable and discerning readers. They will also become more powerful fiction writers. This will be a relaxed atmosphere where we will have much discussion about the text. Students will keep a Novel Notebook, where they will be asked to answer questions, identify concepts such as examples of foreshadowing, or look for specific story elements as they read. Some short writing assignments will be required. They will be graded on literary terms, class participation, successful completion of each book as well as assignments and activities.

Text needed: Illuminating Literature: When Worlds Collide textbook

Novels needed: This course specifically uses the following editions; please be careful to have the approved versions (check ISBN #'s) since lessons refer to specific page numbers in these books. All of these are available on christianbook.com
